LINSEED OIL: it has delicate emollient and anti-inflammatory properties, useful in the treatment of skin redness or burns. When the scalp is not particularly oily or the hair tends to become dry and brittle, it is undoubtedly useful to carry out periodic treatments with flax-based preparations. Those with dry hair are particularly affected by beauty treatments and prolonged contact with salt and chlorine. The hair becomes dull and brittle. The use of linseed immediately improves the shine of the hair, protecting and strengthening it. Both the seed extract and the oil are used for the cosmetic treatment of scalp and hair. The seed oil is obtained by pressing the dried ripe seeds.

EQUISETO: it is a flowerless plant that grows in damp and gravelly places; Horsetail is also known as "vegetable clay" due to its composition and properties. The re-mineralizing properties of the plant are ascribed to silicic acid, which are clearly evident especially in aesthetic and dermatological treatments. Horsetail increases tissue elasticity and has a positive effect on relaxed skin of the face, body and breasts.
