BIO natural PITYREMOVE

The treatment of dandruff (pityriasis) and in particular of the degenerated form "seborrheic dermatitis" is aimed at combating the main pathogenic factors and eliminating the triggering factors: sebaceous secretion for its permissive role, colonization by yeasts of the genus Malassezia and pityrosporum ovalis, individual susceptibility to inflammation.

Evidence in favor of the permissive role played by sebum is the appearance of the disease in periods of life of greater activity of the sebaceous glands and the predilection for areas with a high density of sebaceous glands (heads, face, mid-thoracic region).
